- The Office of Arts & Culture - City of Sacramento is inviting artists to submit their artwork for consideration to be featured in an upcoming exhibit "When I Can," focused on caregivers, parents, and guardians who engage in artistic pursuits during their off-hours.

Deadline is March 10

The showcase titled "When I Can," is part of the City's Emerging Curators Fellowship initiative and lead by this year's Fellow Bridgett Rex. It will be hosted at the City Hall Robert T. Matsui Gallery from May 10 through Aug. 30.

"The exhibition aims to celebrate the creative endeavors of individuals who persist in their artistic pursuits while juggling various responsibilities, whether within or outside the traditional workplace," Rex said. "When they can, artists continue to create while balancing work and life responsibilities." <https://sacramentocityexpress.com/2024/03/05/city-invites-artists-to-showcase-off-hour-creations-in-upcoming-exhibit/>

• Deadline for the Rauschenberg Medical Emergency Grants is March 15!

This national program provides one-time grants of up to $5,000 for recent unexpected medical, dental, and mental health emergencies to artists in financial need who are creating in the visual arts, film/video/electronic/digital arts, and choreography and live in the United States, the District of Columbia, a Tribal Nation, or a U.S. Territory.

• Call for Poets for the Museum of the African Diaspora (MoAD) 2024 Poets-in-Residence program in San Francisco.

Deadline: March 15, 2024

The Poets-in-Residence program is accepting applications for two Poets-in-Residence to participate in a four-month writing residency from September 1 – December 31, 2024.

For the term of the residency, each resident receives:

A monthly stipend of $1500 (for 4 months)

Free access to the museum exhibitions, programs, and events

A 10% discount on all Museum store purchases

Publicity for public programs on social media

Staff support for programming

Access to learning more about the work of the Museum of the African Diaspora from curatorial and education staff

Flexible, drop-in access to MoAD and a designated workspace at the museum

This initiative invites poets to engage deeply with the art of the African Diaspora, creating works in response to our exhibitions and participating in community and educational workshops.

The residency welcomes writers to pursue their own writing projects in addition to responding to MoAD's current exhibitions. The residency requires that writers implement a school-based writing program in partnership with The Ruth Asawa School of the Arts.
